Customising your Learning Ladders

Please contact us if you are thinking of changing your curriculum between now and September 2016!

We are making some amendments to the way curriculum content is stored within Learning Ladders over the summer. You won't see all of the changes as these will mostly be amendments to the technology that supports the system. However, as you can imagine, there is a substantial level of complexity to the technology of Learning Ladders due to the fact that schools can completely customise the curriculum in a way that no other assessment solution allows. In order to make this more sustainable we'll be re-structuring how ladders are stored in the following way:

If a student starts on Learning Ladders in Year 1 during 2014/15 and the school are using the default ladders from Hiltingbury Junior School, the student will keep these Year 1 rungs throughout their journey through school.

If the school then changes their ladders during 2015/16 and the student moves into Year 2, the student will keep the Year 1 ladders from last year but start on the new Year 2 content.

If a school were to then change their ladders each year (in theory) the same process would repeat.

This means that year on year your pupils will use the curriculum that their cohort have been following.

Over the summer we will be building a 'Creation Zone' where you can upload the curriculum you wish to use. This will be in the format of a csv which you can create in Excel. You will still be able to edit your statements within Learning Ladders but if you did want to use a different curriculum structure then this will make the process easier for you. Another update will also include the option to roll your curriculum changes into the next academic year, or implement them immediately meaning that you can be fully prepared for the following academic year well in advance.
